YORNING STUDY

The First Epistle of Peter

Morning Devotions

Select a passage in God's Word. Talk with the Lord as you read the passage, then go back and find one or two verses which the Lord has impressed on your heart and meditate on them.

Morning Study

Today we continue reading Peter's first letter, this time looking more closely at the second section -2:11-3:22. This section can be divided into three subsections. Read each subsection, answering for yourself the questions associated with it. Jot down or type out your the answers and file them together with your morning study.

Read 1 Peter 2:11-25

- ➔ How does Peter describe the effect of sinful desires? (2:11).
- ⇒ Why should we submit ourselves to every authority? For whose sake? (2:13).
- How did Peter encourage his readers to silence "the ignorant talk of foolish men"? (2:15).
- How were his readers to live as free men? (2:16).
- ➔ To what were Peter's readers called? (2:19-21).
- S What was the example Christ left for us? (2:21-23).

Read 1 Peter 3:1-7

- ➔ How will unbelieving husbands be won over to the Lord? (3:1-2).
- What kind of beauty should a godly woman possess? (3:3-4).
- Who are those that Peter describes as "daughters" of Sarah? (3:6).
- • How are husbands to treat their wives? (3:7).

Read 1 Peter 3:8-22

- ➔ How are we to repay one another and why? (3:9).
- ➡ How does Peter describe those who suffer for what is right? (3:14).
- ♥ When you "give reason for the hope that you have," what kind of attitude should you display? (3:15-16).
- What did the waters of Noah's flood symbolize? (3:21).
- How does Peter say that baptism saves you? (3:21-22).

Memory Verse

He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness; by his wounds you have been healed.

1 Peter 2:24

Here are a few suggestions that may help you to memorize your memory verse:

- Ask the Lord to help you remember his Word (see John 14:26).
- Use the version of the Bible you are most familiar with. What you normally read in your Bible is what you need to be memorizing.
- Don't just memorize the contents of the verse; memorize its "address" (the verse reference) as well. You can do this by following this pattern: Step 1: reference; Step 2: verse content; Step 3: reference. Then repeat steps 1-3. Note that you are quoting the reference twice as many times as you quote the actual verse content. This gives the verse a clear "reference tag."
- After you have read your memory verse out aloud several times, try going through your memory verse without reading your computer screen.
- Look up your memory verse in your Bible. Look at its immediate context and read the verses that come before and after your memory verse.
- Print out your memory verse or jot it down on a piece of paper. Take this paper with you when you go to work or do other daily activities. Meditate on the meaning of the verse throughout the day.
- During your noon appointment with the Lord, take out your memory verse and go over it again. Talk to the Lord about what this verse means to you personally.
- In the evening (at either your evening study or your evening devotions), see if you can quote your memory verse from memory. Then, without looking at the memory verse itself, see if you can find it in your Bible.
- The next day, before you begin commiting a new verse to memory, rehearse your previous day's memory verse and see if you can remember it (without cheating!).
- Finally, at the end of the week (possibly on the Sunday), collect all your week's memory verses, rehearse them and see if you can recall them without reading them. Spend a little extra time on any verses you have difficulty recalling.
- Remember: Don't just memorize a verse. Put it into practice (James 1:22). It is not being able to quote a verse from memory that counts. It is His Word abiding in your heart that counts (John 15:7). When you actually apply a verse consistently to your daily life, that is when you truly know that verse!
