

The Book of Galatians

Morning Devotions

Read a Scripture passage of your choice. Talk with the Lord as you read his Word. When you are finished, go back and select one or two verses which you believe God is using to speak to you and meditate thoughtfully and prayerfully on what he is saying.

Morning Study

This morning we will look at the second section of Paul's letter to the Galatians – chapters 3-4. This can be divided into three subsections. Read each subsection and answer for yourself the questions associated with them. Type out your answers or jot them down on a piece of paper and file your answers with your morning study.

Read Galatians 3:1-14

- In what way were the Galatians being foolish? (3:1-5).
- What is it that makes it possible for Gentiles to be called “the children of Abraham”? (3:6-9).
- What has Christ redeemed us from? (3:10-14).

Read Galatians 3:15-29

- Who were the promises spoken to Abraham given to? (3:15-16).
- Why was the covenant of Law later given to Israel? And how long was it meant to last? (3:17-25).
- Who are the seed of Abraham and thus heirs of the promise given to him? (3:26-29).

Read Galatians 4:1-31

- In redeeming us from the law, what has Christ enabled us to receive? (4:1-7).
- Which woman is a picture of the Covenant of Law and why? And which woman is a picture of the New Covenant and why? (4:8-27).
- In the picture that Paul gives of the two women, whose child are you? (4:26-31).

MEMORY VERSE

If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

Galatians 3:29

Here are a few suggestions that may help you to memorize your memory verse:

- ➡ Ask the Lord to help you remember his Word (see John 14:26).
- ➡ Use the version of the Bible you are most familiar with. What you normally read in your Bible is what you need to be memorizing.
- ➡ Don't just memorize the contents of the verse; memorize its "address" (the verse reference) as well. You can do this by following this pattern: Step 1: reference; Step 2: verse content; Step 3: reference. Then repeat steps 1-3. Note that you are quoting the reference twice as many times as you quote the actual verse content. This gives the verse a clear "reference tag."
- ➡ After you have read your memory verse out aloud several times, try going through your memory verse without reading your computer screen.
- ➡ Look up your memory verse in your Bible. Look at its immediate context and read the verses that come before and after your memory verse.
- ➡ Print out your memory verse or jot it down on a piece of paper. Take this paper with you when you go to work or do other daily activities. Meditate on the meaning of the verse throughout the day.
- ➡ During your noon appointment with the Lord, take out your memory verse and go over it again. Talk to the Lord about what this verse means to you personally.
- ➡ In the evening (at either your evening study or your evening devotions), see if you can quote your memory verse from memory. Then, without looking at the memory verse itself, see if you can find it in your Bible.
- ➡ The next day, before you begin committing a new verse to memory, rehearse your previous day's memory verse and see if you can remember it (without cheating!).
- ➡ Finally, at the end of the week (possibly on the Sunday), collect all your week's memory verses, rehearse them and see if you can recall them without reading them. Spend a little extra time on any verses you have difficulty recalling.
- ➡ Remember: Don't just memorize a verse. Put it into practice (James 1:22). It is not being able to quote a verse from memory that counts. It is His Word abiding in your heart that counts (John 15:7). When you actually apply a verse consistently to your daily life, that is when you truly know that verse!
